Thanks, Liz for the summary update.

Could Planning folks please let me know who you would like to prioritize attending this meeting from your side? Based on poll responses there isn't a time that everyone is available, so trying to figure out the best combo.

Thanks,
Tony

Subject: RE: Balboa Reservoir Project Meeting

Hi everyone,

I would like to clarify that the intent of this email is to identify a meeting time for city agencies to discuss proposed transportation conditions as part of City College's Facilities Master Plan. While the City College Facilities Master Plan is a separate project from the Balboa Reservoir Project, both projects share much of the same geographic study area. There is a reference to the Balboa Reservoir Project in the emails below, and therefore, we are adding this correspondence into the Balboa Reservoir AB 900 compliance email account.

The Wednesday, February 26, 2020 5:12 PM from Leigh Lutenski (included below) incorrectly identifies a potential new Balboa Reservoir Subsequent Environmental Impact Report (SEIR) mitigation measure.

As I stated in my email on Thursday, February 27, 2020 at 8:30 AM (included below), the Balboa Reservoir SEIR does not include a potential new mitigation measure; the Responses to Comment document further refines Balboa Reservoir SEIR Mitigation Measure M-C-TR-4, Monitor Cumulative Transit Travel Times and Implement Measures to Reduce Transit Delay.

Thank you,
Liz

Looping Sue and Seung-Yen into this thread vis-à-vis their work on the College Facilities Master Plan in case they want to attend this meeting too.

Hi Leigh,

One clarification, this is not a new mitigation measure. It is a refinement of the existing mitigation measure in the Balboa Reservoir SEIR. Please let us know the details for a conference call next week and if we cannot find a time that works next week, maybe we could use some time during the Balboa meeting on March 5 to discuss?

Here are times Wade and I are available to meet with James:

Tuesday, March 10: 2:30-3:30pm

Wednesday, March 11: 1-2:30pm

Monday, March 16: 1-3pm

Tuesday, March 17: 1-5pm

Thank you,

Liz

Hi all –

Nora filled me in on this potential new mit measure. Timing is perfect then to tell you all that I had a great call with James Sohn from City College today and they are prepared to realign the north side of Ocean to increase the City's ROW and will be asking their Board for that approval in March! Also, they are prepared to do any curb realignments needed on Frida to help traffic flow better. I'd love to explain more on a conf. call when convenient – sometime next week?

Also, James would like a meeting to discuss the north side curb on Ocean. He's free March 10, 11, 12, or possibly 16, 17. Does someone from MTA want to coordinate internal availability for the appropriate folks and let me know what works? Liz – same for Planning?

Leigh
