Oops I missed this one too. My only comment is in red:

- Planning: framework diagrams are too detailed; diagrams and text need to be higher level; lay out key elements of site and existing conditions before getting into the detailed design response diagrams. Create a narrative to explain how the existing conditions / site opportunities and constraints are informing the design principles and vision.

I think that Ilaria was also present and should review as well?

Thanks for following up on it! I scanned through it, and it was generally fine. Luiz, did you have any comments?

Just realized these did not go out after our last meeting. Some of these items might be out of date by now but wanted to get you our summary of the 2/26 meeting. Please let me know if you have any comments or corrections.
