Hi Emily,

Sorry about the phone tag.... As far as lessons learned, any AWSS (Auxiliary Water Supply Systems) should be addressed early on in the project. BKF should already understand this. Looking forward to meeting with you

Hi Captain Patt,

I've tried calling a couple of times but keep missing you, so here's a quick overview via email.

The Balboa Reservoir developer has just brought a civil engineer (BKF) on board to start work on their infrastructure and streetscape plans. I'll be coordinating a kickoff meeting with them and the City's technical review agencies in early August, so you'll hear from me again soon about scheduling.

I'd also love to get your thoughts on any lessons learned from other recent projects that might also be relevant for the Balboa Reservoir, either around review process or design elements. Does anything come to mind?

Thanks,
Emily

Good afternoon Captain Patt,

I'd like to introduce you to my colleague, Emily Lesk, who is leading our DA negotiations and coordination for the Balboa Reservoir project. Before the Balboa Reservoir project sponsor starts drafting their Infrastructure Plan, Emily would like to get your feedback on scope, level of detail, and review process.

Emily is hoping to meet with you in the next week or two to talk about how best to structure SFFD's involvement with that Infrastructure Plan.

Thank you,

Robin
