Thank you for your patience as we've worked to pin down the timing of public meetings for the next few months. We now have greater clarity on when they will take place:

- The Board of Supervisors' Budget & Finance Committee now plans to hear the Balboa Reservoir fiscal feasibility findings on Thursday, March 15th (City Hall Room 250 at 10:00 AM). At the last CAC meeting, we predicted that this hearing would occur this Thursday, March 1st, but we have learned that the Board will be devoting this week's Budget & Finance Committee meeting to the City's annual budget.

  As a result of this Committee agenda change, the full Board of Supervisors will not consider this item at its March 13th meeting, as we had originally predicted. Our new timing estimate for this second hearing is Tuesday, March 27th.

- In light of this, we will not hold a CAC meeting in March. The next CAC meeting will take place in April at the regular date, time, and location: Monday, April 9th at 6:00 PM in the City College Multi-Use Building, Room 140. This timing will also ensure that the development team and their designers have ample time to thoughtfully refine the master plan prior to the next CAC meeting.

The development team is also planning to host a community open house later in April. We will share that timing with you as soon as we know it.

Best regards,
Tom
